CEO Commentary

"While reported results included several discrete items, we earned $$ 1.1$ billion on an adjusted basis during the fourth quarter, which excludes a non-cash goodwill impairment charge that has no impact on our regulatory capital ratios, liquidity, our ability to pay the common dividend, or service our clients.

Underlying results were positive as our transformation into a simpler, more efficient, and profitable company is well underway. This transformative work was evident in our fourth quarter results given the sequential decline in adjusted expense and improvement in revenue.

We continue to invest in our core franchise and risk management infrastructure and strengthen our balance sheet as we achieved a CET1 ratio of $10.1 \%$ at year-end. Asset quality continues to normalize but remains in-line relative to our outlook and allowance coverage ratios.

Looking into 2024, we remain diligently focused on winning on our home court in the best U.S. markets by helping new and existing core clients reach their financial goals. Our heightened focus on capitalizing on this competitive advantage will drive efficiencies and growth that will lead to increased franchise and shareholder value."

Noninterest expense was up $$ 6.5$ billion compared to the third quarter of 2023 due to goodwill impairment of $$ 6.1$ billion, the FDIC special assessment (regulatory costs) of $$ 507$ million, higher merger-related and restructuring charges, and higher professional fees and outside processing expense, partially offset by lower personnel expense and other expense. The goodwill impairment was primarily due to the continued impact of higher interest rates and discount rates, and a sustained decline in banking industry share prices, including Truist's. Merger-related and restructuring charges for the current quarter include increased severance charges due to the ongoing transformation efforts as well as the continuation of specific facilities optimization costs.

Adjusted noninterest expenses, which exclude goodwill impairment, the FDIC special assessment, merger-related and restructuring costs, and the amortization of intangibles, decreased $$ 160$ million, or $4.5 \%$, compared to the prior quarter.

- Personnel expense decreased due to lower variable incentives, lower headcount, lower other postretirement benefit expense, and lower medical claims, in part due to our ongoing transformation into a more efficient organization.
- Other expense decreased due to lower operating charge-offs, franchise taxes, and the impact of other regulatory and litigation matters impacting the prior quarter.
- Professional fees and outside processing expenses increased primarily due to costs associated with Truist Insurance Holdings independence readiness and the transformative efforts underway to be a more efficient company.

Noninterest expense was up $$ 6.6$ billion compared to the fourth quarter of 2022 due to goodwill impairment of $$ 6.1$ billion, higher regulatory costs primarily due to the FDIC special assessment of $$ 507$ million, higher other expense and higher merger-related and restructuring charges, partially offset by lower personnel expense and lower amortization. Incremental operating expenses related to the merger decreased $$ 56$ million due to the completion of integration-related activities.

Adjusted noninterest expenses, which exclude goodwill impairment, the FDIC special assessment, merger-related and restructuring costs, incremental operating expenses related to the merger, and the amortization of intangibles, was stable.

- Personnel expense decreased due to lower incentives, lower pension expenses, lower headcount, and lower medical claims, in part due to our ongoing transformation into a more efficient organization.
- Other expense increased primarily due to higher pension expense (driven primarily by lower plan assets) and higher operating losses.
- Regulatory costs, excluding the aforementioned FDIC special assessment, increased primarily due to an increase in the FDIC's deposit insurance assessment rate.

Loans 90 days or more past due and still accruing totaled $$ 534$ million at December 31, 2023, down $$ 40$ million, or one basis point as a percentage of loans and leases, compared with the prior quarter primarily due to a decline in government guaranteed residential mortgages. Excluding government guaranteed loans, the ratio of loans 90 days or more past due and still accruing as a percentage of loans and leases was $0.04 \%$ at December 31, 2023, unchanged from September 30, 2023.

Loans 30-89 days past due and still accruing of $$ 2.0$ billion at December 31, 2023 were up $$ 335$ million, or 11 basis points as a percentage of loans and leases, compared to the prior quarter due to increases in the commercial and industrial portfolio and consumer portfolios.

Non-GAAP Financial Information

This news release contains financial information and performance measures determined by methods other than in accordance with GAAP. Truist's management uses these "non-GAAP" measures in their analysis of Truist's performance and the efficiency of its operations. Management believes these non-GAAP measures provide a greater understanding of ongoing operations, enhance comparability of results with prior periods and demonstrate the effects of significant items in the current period. The Corporation believes a meaningful analysis of its financial performance requires an understanding of the factors underlying that performance. Truist's management believes investors may find these non-GAAP financial measures useful. These disclosures should not be viewed as a substitute for financial measures determined in accordance with GAAP, nor are they necessarily comparable to non-GAAP performance measures that may be presented by other companies. Below is a listing of the types of non-GAAP measures used in this news release:

- Adjusted net income available to common shareholders and adjusted diluted EPS - Adjusted net income available to common shareholders and diluted earnings per share are non-GAAP in that these measures exclude selected items, net of tax. Truist's management uses these measures in their analysis of the Corporation's performance. Truist's management believes these measures provide a greater understanding of ongoing operations and enhances comparability of results with prior periods, as well as demonstrate the effects of significant gains and charges.
- Adjusted efficiency ratio - The adjusted efficiency ratio is non-GAAP in that it excludes securities gains (losses), amortization of intangible assets, merger-related and restructuring charges, and other selected items. Adjusted revenue and adjusted noninterest expense are related measures used to calculate the adjusted efficiency ratio. Adjusted revenue excludes securities gains (losses), and other selected items. Adjusted noninterest expense excludes amortization of intangible assets, merger-related and restructuring charges, and other selected items. Truist's management uses this measure in their analysis of the Corporation's performance. Truist's management believes these measures provides a greater understanding of ongoing operations and enhances comparability of results with prior periods, as well as demonstrates the effects of significant gains and charges.
- PPNR - Pre-provision net revenue is a non-GAAP measure that adjusts net income determined in accordance with GAAP to exclude the impact of the provision for credit losses and provision for income taxes. Adjusted pre-provision net revenue is a non-GAAP measure that additionally excludes securities gains (losses), merger-related and restructuring charges, amortization of intangible assets, and other selected items. Truist's management believes these measures provide a greater understanding of ongoing operations and enhances comparability of results with prior periods.
- Tangible Common Equity and Related Measures - Tangible common equity and related measures are non-GAAP measures that exclude the impact of intangible assets, net of deferred taxes, and their related amortization and impairment charges. These measures are useful for evaluating the performance of a business consistently, whether acquired or developed internally. Truist's management uses these measures to assess profitability, returns relative to balance sheet risk, and shareholder value.
- Core NIM - Core net interest margin is a non-GAAP measure that adjusts net interest margin to exclude the impact of purchase accounting. The purchase accounting marks and related amortization for loans, deposits, and long-term debt from mergers and acquisitions are excluded to approximate the yields paid by clients. Truist's management believes the adjustments to the calculation of net interest margin for certain assets and liabilities acquired provide investors with useful information related to the performance of Truist's earning assets.

A reconciliation of each of these non-GAAP measures to the most directly comparable GAAP measure is included in the appendix to Truist's Fourth Quarter 2023 Earnings Presentation, which is available at https://ir.truist.com/earnings.

Forward Looking Statements

This news release contains "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, regarding the financial condition, results of operations, business plans and the future performance of Truist. Words such as "anticipates," "believes," "estimates," "expects," "forecasts," "intends," "plans," "projects," "may," "will," "should," "would," "could" and other similar expressions are intended to identify these forward-looking statements.

Forward-looking statements are not based on historical facts but instead represent management's expectations and assumptions regarding Truist's business, the economy, and other future conditions. Such statements involve inherent uncertainties, risks, and changes in circumstances that are difficult to predict. As such, Truist's actual results may differ materially from those contemplated by forward-looking statements. While there can be no assurance that any list of risks and uncertainties or risk factors is complete, important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by forward-looking statements include the following, without limitation, as well as the risks and uncertainties more fully discussed under Part I, Item 1A-Risk Factors in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2022 and in Truist's subsequent filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission:

- current and future economic and market conditions, such as the interest rate environment; U.S. fiscal debt, budget and tax matters; geopolitical matters (including conflicts in the Ukraine, Israel, and the Gaza Strip); and any slowdown in global economic growth could result in, among other things, slower deposit or asset growth, a deterioration in credit quality, or a reduced demand for credit, insurance, or other services;
- the monetary and fiscal policies of the federal government and its agencies, including in response to higher inflation, could have a material adverse effect on the economy and Truist's profitability;
- regulatory and supervisory matters, litigation, or other legal actions may result in, among other things, costs, fines, penalties, restrictions on Truist's business activities, reputational harm, negative publicity, or other adverse consequences;
- evolving legislative, accounting, regulatory, and supervisory standards, including with respect to climate change, deposit, capital, liquidity, and long-term debt requirements, which may become more stringent in light of the turmoil in the banking industry in early 2023, and results of regulatory examinations, may adversely affect Truist's financial condition and results of operations;
- increased scrutiny regarding Truist's consumer sales practices, training practices, incentive compensation design, and governance could damage its reputation and adversely impact business and revenues;
- Truist may be impacted by actual or perceived soundness of other financial institutions, including as a result of the financial or operational failure of a major financial institution, or concerns about the creditworthiness of such a financial institution or its ability to fulfill its obligations, which can cause substantial and cascading disruption within the financial markets and increased expenses, including FDIC insurance premiums, and could affect our ability to attract and retain depositors and to borrow or raise capital;
- Truist is subject to credit risk by lending or committing to lend money, may have more credit risk and higher credit losses to the extent that loans are concentrated by loan type, industry segment, borrower type or location of the borrower or collateral, and may suffer losses if the value of collateral declines in stressed market conditions;
- inability to access short-term funding or liquidity, loss of client deposits, or changes in Truist's credit ratings could increase the cost of funding, limit access to capital markets, or negatively affect Truist's overall liquidity or capitalization;
- unexpected outflows of uninsured deposits may require Truist to sell investment securities at a loss;
- a loss of value of Truist's investment portfolio could negatively impact market perceptions of Truist and could lead to deposit withdrawals;
- risk management oversight functions may not identify or address risks adequately, and management may not be able to effectively manage credit risk;
- there are risks resulting from the extensive use of models in Truist's business, which may impact decisions made by management and regulators;
- deposit attrition, client loss, or revenue loss following completed mergers or acquisitions may be greater than anticipated;
- Truist could fail to execute on strategic or operational plans, including the ability to achieve its cost savings targets;
- increased competition, including from (i) new or existing competitors that could have greater financial resources or be subject to different regulatory standards or compliance costs, and (ii) products and services offered by non-bank financial technology companies, may reduce Truist's client base, cause Truist to lower prices for its products and services in order to maintain market share or otherwise adversely impact Truist's businesses or results of operations;
- failure to maintain or enhance Truist's competitive position with respect to new products, services, and technology, whether we fail to anticipate client expectations or because our technological developments fail to perform as desired or do not achieve market acceptance or regulatory approval or for other reasons, may cause Truist to lose market share or incur additional expense;
- negative public opinion could damage Truist's reputation and adversely impact business and revenues, including the effects of social media on market perceptions of Truist and banks generally;
- Truist faces substantial legal and operational risks in safeguarding personal information;
- accounting policies and processes require management to make estimates about matters that are uncertain, including the potential write down to goodwill if there is an elongated period of decline in market value for Truist's stock and adverse economic conditions are sustained over a period of time or if there is a decline in a reporting unit's forecasted net income;
- Truist faces risks related to originating and selling mortgages, including repurchase and indemnity demands from purchasers related to representations and warranties on loans sold, which could result in an increase in the amount of losses for loan repurchases;
- there are risks relating to Truist's role as a loan servicer, including an increase in the scope or costs of the services Truist is required to perform without any corresponding increase in servicing fees or a breach of Truist's obligations as servicer;
- Truist's success depends on hiring and retaining key teammates, and if these individuals leave or change roles without effective replacements, Truist's operations could be adversely impacted, which could be exacerbated in the increased work-from-home environment as job markets may be less constrained by physical geography;
- Truist's operations rely on its ability, and the ability of key external parties, to maintain appropriately-staffed workforces, and on the competence, trustworthiness, health and safety of teammates;
- Truist faces the risk of fraud or misconduct by internal or external parties, which Truist may not be able to prevent, detect, or mitigate;
- security risks, including denial of service attacks, hacking, social engineering attacks targeting Truist's teammates and clients, malware intrusion, data corruption attempts, system breaches, cyberattacks, which have increased in frequency with geopolitical tensions, identity theft, ransomware attacks, and physical security risks, such as natural disasters, environmental conditions, and intentional acts of destruction, could result in the disclosure of confidential information, adversely affect Truist's business or reputation or create significant legal or financial exposure; and
- widespread outages of operational, communication, or other systems, whether internal or provided by third parties, natural or other disasters (including acts of terrorism and pandemics), and the effects of climate change, including physical risks, such as more frequent and intense weather events, and risks related to the transition to a lower carbon economy, such as regulatory or technological changes or shifts in market dynamics or consumer preferences, could have an adverse effect on Truist's financial condition and results of operations, lead to material disruption of Truist's operations or the ability or willingness of clients to access Truist's products and services.

Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date they are made. Except to the extent required by applicable law or regulation, Truist undertakes no obligation to revise or update any forward-looking statements.
